This Grand Family History Day, on Saturday 3rd June 2017, is being put on by the South East Cornwall Museums Forum. Entry is Free to everyone.

I am sending this out early as a number of you have requested this information as I know you have magazines and periodicals to prepare and send out early. Many of you might also like to put the information on your web sites, and Facebook pages. There might well be a couple more participants in this event, and I am waiting to hear from them with confirmation they will be attending.

As you can see we have a large number of Organisations, with a few new ones joining us this year. This includes U3A and representatives from a number of different U3a's in both South East Cornwall and South Devon will be joining together, to enlighten visitors of the potential of receiving assistance and support by attending classes in Family History Research, with the U3a.

We will produce a press release nearer the time and hope to have as many, if not more visitors than we did last year. We will have a refreshment room with some homemade goodies, as last year this was extremely popular.

We want to thank all these organisations with their many volunteers for coming along and supporting the SECMF.

The aim of the event is to show Family History Researchers, that a wealth of information can be found in our many small Museums. With this in mind the South East Cornwall Museums Forum decided to run a trial event last year, linking Museums, archives, Family History Societies and the many other supporting agencies who assist the general public, with one of the most fulfilling hobbies in the country today. Last year's event was such a success that we are repeating it again this year. Perhaps this adds a slightly different slant to the normal Family History Fayres which can be found around the country.

We look forward to a busy and fulfilling day with lots of visitors and good networking between everyone in the hall on the day. Please let the sun shine on us all.

With kind regards, and please do get back to me, should you require any further information at this stage.
