

OCS Dialect Recorder to judge Gorsedh entries

Paul Phillips, the FOCS's Dialect Recorder has been asked by Bardh Meur of Gorsedh Kernow to judge the dialect classes for 2017.

There are written classes for both prose and verse and, for the first time, there is a class for recorded material under these same headings.

Paul said, "I deem it an honour and certainly a pleasure to be invited to undertake the task".

Bardh Meur, Merv Davey, also requested that Paul writes some guidance notes to help the appropriate committee and contestants in the future development of these dialect classes; this he was also pleased to do. In fact, the notes have been written, submitted and will hopefully be accepted.
